

Our Vision Statement Where Happy Learners Grow

Primrose Trip to Loe Bar

Primrose Class continued to address their overarching inquiry question for History: What impact has Henry Trengrouse had on life today? They walked down to Loe Bar to visit the Anson Memorial which is to commemorate those who lost their lives at sea when the HMS Anson wrecked in 1807. The plaque credits Henry Trengrouse as being instrumental in helping to save countless lives with his subsequent life saving inventions such as the Rocket and Breeches Buoy. We enjoyed our lunch al fresco, despite it being a little chilly! Brilliant behaviour was on display by all as usual!

Mohegan Trip to CAST

This week Mohegan class visited Cast in Helston. As always we had a great trip and the workshop was excellent. The children learnt about Joseph Dalton Hooker, a Victorian botanist who discovered rhododendrons in the Himalayas. He later went on to run Kew gardens and introduce rhododendrons to Britain. The children did some lovely art which we intend to build on.
